The 37TRW weekly rundown of events, news and need-to-know information

Nov. 22, 2021

WARHAWKS OF THE WEEK

Chief Morgan and I had a diverse group of professionals to coin this week. It was great to get out and see both our Warhawks and our mission partners to acknowledge their efforts.

We had some lighting and electrical issues at the 324th Training Squadron and when I put out the call for help, we had a super crew from the 502nd Civil Engineer Squadron who came to the rescue. Last Friday we coined the 8 team members who did a great job for us: Troy Brown, Timothy Gomer, Crystal Ayers, Rene Delgadillo, Ruben Constancio, Stanley Copenhaver, Marcos Hernandez and Ryan Moreno. Thanks to these great mission partners for their help and for ensuring the safety of our trainees and our MTIs!

We've got some great wingmen at the 737th Training Support Squadron who came to the aid of a trainee in distress. Thanks to TSgt Rothstein, TSgt Cooper and Mr. Thomas who sprang into action and handled the situation with professionalism, speed and thoughtfulness.

TSgt Michael Janzen is the 332d Training Squadron NCOIC of the English Curriculum Flight at DLIELC. TSgt Janzen took the initiative to create emergency management books, fostering a stress-free response in times of crisis for every classroom and office throughout the 332d TRS. Additionally he co-authored the Next-Gen Aviation course book. His professionalism and dedication to duty has led him to receive multiple group and squadron awards. Furthermore, he volunteered for the base COVID response team, providing 7,000 meals to 300 personnel. TSgt

Janzen continues to exemplify his leadership as he's led the 637th TRG's Fisher House initiative by collecting household items, he raised $2,000 for local veterans, ran lead for the squadron UNITE program and managed the group AFAF Campaign.
