Eagle Business Manager Dies Of Pneumonia

Sgt. 1st Class George H. Righter Succumbs After Influenza

Military Funeral Is Accorded by Squadron

Had Placed Camp Newspaper on Efficient Financial Footing

AFTER an illness of but a very few days, Sergt. 1st Class George H. Righter, a member of the 144th Aero Squadron and business manager of the Kelly Field Eagle, died at the Main Hospital, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, of pneumonia and other complications. His body was taken to his home at Radnor, Pennsylvania, Monday evening, with a military escort.

The entire personnel of the 144th Aero Squadron and the staff of the Eagle participated in the military funeral given the remains. Headed by the band, playing the solemn funeral march, the long cortege proceeded from the Shelley-Loring undertaking parlors to the M., K. & T. station. The coffin, draped with the flag, lay on a motor truck at the sides of which walked the pallbearers, all members of The Eagle staff, and, all but one, members of the 144th Squadron. They were: Thomas T. Gillen, Roy C. Elmendorf, Edmund C. Bechtold, G. H. Zink, Charles F. O'Donnell and L. A. Bryan. An honor escort of eight sergeants 1st class from the 144th Squadron followed the coffin. They were Lloyd S. Radcliffe, Charles B. Merkle, Carl E. Hatch, Frank Berger, Robert D. Little, Warren A. Brown, Clarence Adams and D. Howard George. The balance of the Squadron, under the leadership of Lieut. F. G. Russ, commanding officer, and Lieut. E. B. Hood, adjutant, ended the procession.

Service at Station.

At the station the squadron was drawn up on either side of the walk leading from the station entrance to the trainsheds. The coffin was removed from the truck and placed on the green in front of the station. Chaplain Charles H. Stephens, read the Protestant burial ritual and offered prayer. The bugler from the band sounded "Taps." Then, while the band softly played "Nearer My God to Thee," the body was slowly borne down the walk, flanked with the comrades of the deceased, to the train.

Sergeant Righter was 32 years old. He enlisted at Jackson Barracks, Louisiana on December 14, 1917, and was immediately sent to Kelly Field. He was placed in quarantine and soon afterwards was made sergeant-major of the Quarantine Camp. On February 29 he was transferred to the 324th Squadron. Capt. Fred J. White, then lieutenant, commanding officer of the 324th Squadron, appointed him his sergeant-major, which position he held until August when the 324th Squadron was broken up. When Captain White was appointed publicity officer in charge of The Eagle, he brought Righter with him as business manager. Righter was then

Washington Offers Square Deal to Men Who Stay in Service

A TELEGRAM from the Director of Military Aeronautics urges that enlisted men of the Air Service at Kelly Field remain in service. Special inducements, yet unannounced, are to be offered men to remain in service during peace times. One of the items mentioned in the telegram is that all men who remain in service will be given a "square deal" after the war.

Enlisted men are soon to be given an opportunity to express themselves if they desire Army life during peace times. It is impossible to form an estimate at present as to the probable number who will choose to remain with the Air Service. The men are not saying much about remaining in service, and all interest seems to center in the question as to when they will be discharged.

May Curtail Mechanics School Activities, Washington Says

Cadets Who Finish Course to be Given Commission Here

CADETS completing the required work for the Reserve Military Aviator's rating will be commissioned at Kelly Field.

This announcement is made from the office of the Director of Military Aeronautics in accordance with instructions from the Adjutant General of the Army. It had been announced previously that cadets completing their period of training would be returned to their homes as enlisted men. Under the present arrangements cadets will be commissioned by the commanding officer of the field in the Aviation Section, Signal Reserve Corps, as second lieutenants. They will be discharged immediately after receiving their commissions.

Makes Report on British Airmen.

Combat effectiveness during the great world war in air fighting was nearly five to one in favor of the British according to a report just made public.

British air forces destroyed 3,062 German planes and sent down out of control 1,174, a short synopsis of the War Office says. The figures issued did not include the results of the American and French successes.

THERE is no truth to the rumor current on the field that the Kelly Field Eagle will suspend publication after the issue of the Special Christmas edition.

The Eagle will continue to be published every week indefinitely. Ample notice will be given subscribers and advertisers whenever such suspension is contemplated.

Reply to Major Stratemeyer's Inquiry Dictates Retrenchment Policy, Stopping Contemplated Enlargement of School.

CURTAILMENT of the activities of the Air Service Mechanics School at Kelly Field is foreshadowed in a letter from Col. M. F. Davis, Chief of Training in the office of the Director of Military Aeronautics.

The letter, recently received, was written in reply to an inquiry of Major George E. Stratemeyer, commanding officer of the A. S. M. S., regarding contemplated improvement and enlargement of the school.

The letter from Washington absolutely prevents any expansion and even dictates a decided policy of retrenchment for the school. No further equipment will be supplied the school and no more promotions will be made as planned in accordance with the ideal tables of organization. Officers connected with the school who had been recommended for promotion will not be granted higher rank.

It had been contemplated that two new squadrons would be formed in the mechanics school to accommodate a large number of students. This increase in the school would have necessitated more ratings for instructors. Plans called for a personnel of 3,712 students in training at one time, but these have been cancelled since the signing of the armistice.

The letter from Washington also explains why the Air Service Mechanics School at St. Paul was not sent to Kelly Field, as was reported by dispatches. The St. Paul school is to be discontinued as soon as possible. Exchange of instructors between these two schools and the sending of instructors to factories in the United States for observation has been discontinued.

Information as the probable time of mustering out the personnel of the mechanics school has not been received here.

Demobilization Held in Abeyance Until Signing Of World Peace Treaty

Kenly Appreciates Col. Quackenbush's Work on Kelly Field

A COPY of a letter of appreciation of the work done by Col. G. V. S. Quackenbush at Kelly Field sent him by Major Gen. W. L. Kenly, director of Military Aeronautics, was received here recently.

Here it is: "Dear Colonel Quackenbush: "I am writing you to let you know, in behalf of this branch of the service, something of the appreciation which we feel for the work you performed at Kelly Field.

"You had a large part in the pioneer organization work there and you are to be congratulated upon the splendid manner in which you overcame earlier organization difficulties in the First Brigade and your efficient work later as Commanding Officer of the Field.

"We regret that we could not send you overseas and feel that your separation from the Air Service is a genuine loss to us."

Maj. White Leaves Kelly Field; May Join Old Company

Former Post Adjutant Goes to California for Health; Mrs. White Accompanies Him

MAJOR J. M. WHITE, post adjutant, who left Tuesday on a 30-day sick leave, does not expect to return to Kelly Field. He stated before leaving this field that he hoped to be transferred from the Air Service and returned to the Philippine Scouts, in which he holds a Regular Army commission as a captain, at the expiration of his present leave.

Major White has been at Kelly Field the past thirteen and one-half months and during that time has never had a single day off. The physicians who recommended that he receive the sick leave state that this temporary cessation of active duties necessary due to over-work and a nervously rundown condition brought about by too constant application.

Major White first came to Kelly Field in October of last year with rank of captain and was made supply officer of the Flying Department. On December 22, he was appointed assistant post adjutant and held this position until Major Graham, then post adjutant, was transferred. On September 4, he was appointed post adjutant, and has held that position since.

Enlists in Infantry. Major White has been a fighter all his life and has a great love for the army life. When he was but 17 years old he wanted to enlist for service in the Spanish-American War, but was rejected because of his youth. Soon afterwards, having graduated from high school, he enlisted at Plattsburg Barracks in the 27th Infantry, and was sent with his regiment to the

All Branches of Service Face Several More Months Service

Southern Department Father To Statement

America To Hold Herself Ready for Any Further Trouble

THERE will be no demobilization of enlisted men in organizations at Kelly Field until after the peace treaty has been signed. This may be four months.

This authoritative announcement from the demobilization officer at Kelly Field made public today, sent hopes of demobilization by Christmas or any time soon thereafter sky high. Ever since the armistice was signed the entire thought and planning of officers and enlisted men who had enlisted for the period of the emergency only, has centered about the probable date of discharge.

A statement issued from the Southern Department stated that men who had enlisted in the Regular Army for the period of the emergency would be held. This led many inducted and drafted men to believe that they would be discharged before the volunteers, but since the National Army and Regular Army have all been consolidated in the United States Army, they will have to take their turn with the others.

Members of Regular Outfits Held. Despite the fact that many thousands of men have been discharged it is stated on good authority that they do not belong to regular organizations and are non-combatant troops. Only men belonging to development battalions, depot brigades, and the U. S. Guards are being discharged. No orders for the demobilization of any organized squadrons at Kelly Field or of the 18th Division at Camp Travis have been received.

Men returning from abroad may be given the preference, it is stated, as they have been away from the home folks a longer time than the men in America.

Men on this field are urged to sit tight and not lay extensive plans for any business which requires their early discharge.

Judging from this information it is thought that unless some action is taken by the new Congress to expedite the demobilization activities the men who did not go across may be held until actual peace terms have been signed.

No reason or explanations for holding these men is advanced.

Two Kelly Officers Receive Discharges

Lieut. R. L. Johnson and Lieut. Adlai T. Mast Leave Service Under Recent Ruling

DEMobilization of officers at Kelly Field has begun.

The first officers to be discharged under the provisions of Circular 75 are Lieut. Roy L. Johnson and Lieut. Adlai T. Mast. Lieutenant Johnson is in the Engineering department and Lieutenant Mast in the Flying Department.

It is expected that work of discharging officers will continue rapidly.

Enlisted Men May Now Do Solo Work Washington Rules

Opportunity Long Looked for by Non-Commissioned Men Arrives

ALL enlisted men at Kelly Field, with considerable flying experience, will be allowed to do solo work in the future, in the opinion of their stage commander they are sufficiently qualified. This announcement is made pursuant to instructions received from the Director of Military Aeronautics.

Flying Department headquarters expect to be swamped with applications from men in the ranks who have never had an opportunity to fly "on their own." These flights will not be allowed to interfere with the regular course of instruction and will in the majority of cases have to be worked in during spare time.

Heretofore, it has always been necessary for an officer to accompany all enlisted men on flights, no matter how wide or varied their experience in the air may have been, or regardless of the ability they displayed.

This revolutionary step, which will doubtless be hailed with delight by all men on the field having aerial aspirations, has been decided upon as a reward for faithful attention to routine and monotonous duty by the skilled mechanics, and as an added incentive to further efforts along this line, by the highly intelligent non-commissioned personnel of the field.

Sgt. 1st Class I. B. Jennings, chief clerk in the office of the officer in charge of flying, was the first to take advantage of the new ruling. He broke the ice Friday, when he ascended alone and remained aloft 40 minutes, fully demonstrating that he is far from being a novice at the game.

Will Aid Plans for Demobilization of Kelly Field Troops

Lieut. Seward C. Simons, who has been personnel adjutant of the Concentration Brigade since September 23, 1918, has been assigned assistant to Major S. S. Hanks, demobilization officer for Kelly Field.

Before being assigned to the Concentration Brigade, Lieutenant Simons was assistant personnel adjutant of the Casual Detachment taking that position April 10, 1918, when he reported to this field. During the time he held his last two assignments he made an excellent record for efficiency and rapid work. It was partly due to the splendid efforts put forth by Lieutenant Simons in conjunction with Major Hanks, that the Concentration Brigade was thoroughly reorganized so as to care for the great rush of drafted men who were expected in the field last month.

Lieut. H. W. Herlihy who has been personnel adjutant of the first wing in the Concentration Brigade has been promoted to Lieutenant Simons' former position and will probably handle both assignments for the time being.

transferred to the 144th Squadron.

While acting as sergeant-major on this field Righter gained the reputation of being one of the most efficient and thorough-going executive "non-coms" on the field. Recently when enlisted men were selected for commission direct as ground officers in the Air Service, Righter's ability in this line was recognized, and he was recommended as a wing adjutant.

During his connection with the Kelly Field Eagle he succeeded in placing the paper on a thorough financial basis.

An Excellent Organizer.

Previous to the enlistment in the Air Service Righter was engaged in the chamber of commerce work, organizing business men's associations and doing credit work. He showed exceptional ability as an organizer and had a brilliant future in this line. He worked in the South almost exclusively. The largest merchants' association organized by him is the one at Atlanta, Ga. Besides his father, G. W. Righter,

Flying Pilot Hits High Voltage Wire

Second Lieut. Robert L. Copsey, Kelly Field pilot, had a miraculous escape from death early Thursday afternoon at Alice, just below Corpus Christi, when his plane became entangled in a high voltage wire and crashed to the ground.

Having escaped injury, Lieutenant Copsey, climbed out of the wrecked plane and not dreaming of any further danger, picked up the wire, which carried 8,000 volts, enough to kill ten men and was knocked down by the current. He owes his life to the fact that all but two or three feet of the wire was lying on the ground, which assimilated all but a very small fraction of the juice.

At the time of the accident Lieutenant Copsey was doing some stunt flying, along with Second Lieut. Walter Riley, which was given as the feature part of a Victory celebration program at Alice.

Lieutenant Riley was more fortunate and completed his "lines" without mishap.

the late sergeant leaves two sisters. His death is mourned by a host of men on Kelly Field with whom he had been associated during the past year.

Floral offerings from the 144th Squadron and The Eagle staff were sent with the remains. Pvt. William E. Jones, advertising solicitor for The Eagle, accompanied the body to Radnor, Pennsylvania.

Influenza Epidemic Again Appears 140 Cases Reported

Flying Department Contributes Large Number of Cases; Greater Precautions Are Necessary

Influenza and pneumonia are again prevalent at Kelly Field. The number of cases developing daily though not as large as in the former epidemic, is nevertheless sufficiently large to warrant calling the recent outbreak an epidemic. The present epidemic started but a week ago. There were 140 cases of influenza and 60 cases of pneumonia in the hospitals at Kelly Field yesterday.

About ten cases a day are being admitted to the hospitals, which is less than during the last epidemic but the nature of the present epidemic is more severe. Lieut. Col. L. H. Bauer, camp surgeon, stated that the disease had appeared in a more virile form than previously and that greater precautions against taking it must be observed.

The greater number of cases admitted during the past week have come from the Flying Department, which was singularly free from influenza during the previous epidemic.

That the present epidemic is more serious than the former is attested to by the number of cases developing pneumonia. The percentage developing pneumonia is considerably greater than previously. As the influenza leaves the system in a much weakened condition, patients are very prone to contract pneumonia. Their resisting powers have been sapped by the influenza and they are in no position to withstand the ravages of pneumonia. The number of men who succumb to pneumonia is increasing. The present average rate of mortality was said by Colonel Bauer to be 11 per cent.

Quarantine a Probability.
The possibility of a quarantine being placed on Kelly Field soon, is being considered by the medical authorities. Meetings of all kinds on the field have been forbidden. Men are urged not to congregate in large groups. Barracks and tents must be well ventilated, and beds should be placed head to foot with five feet of space between beds, according to medical regulations. If these precautions are observed there is a possibility that the spread of the disease may be stopped. There were 19 cases admitted on Monday. Only eight were admitted on Tuesday.

The city of San Antonio has been placed under a very rigid quarantine since Monday. Schools, churches, theatres, public meetings, dances, and even outdoor gatherings have been closed or forbidden. Stores must be closed and ventilated twice each day and will be policed to prevent over-crowding. On the day immediately preceding the establishment of the quarantine, 527 cases were reported.

With the increase of pneumonia on the field, the medical authorities again call attention to the fact that the lipovaccine against pneumonia is obtainable at the Infirmary of the Second Wing, Concentration Brigade.

To Use Kelly Field Ideas Elsewhere.

The Engineer Department has been directed by Army Headquarters at Washington to submit blue prints and photographs of all jigs and fixtures for engine and plane overhaul and repair which are being used at Kelly Field.

This has been done in order that there may be a more general use made of contrivances and ideas employed here and at other fields. Kelly Field ideas will probably then be used throughout the service.

Sixteen members of the Flying Department Photographic Unit and two planes left the field with the picture lorry early Friday morning for Waco. They have been detailed to make an aerial map of a strip of country twenty miles wide between Waco and Austin, the terrain between Austin and Kelly Field having already been photographed.

The party carried rations for six days and their bedding rolls, besides a large quantity of camera equipment. The ships will return to the field from time to time for oil, laundry, food and supplies of all kinds, as it will take about three weeks to complete the assignment.

Aerial pictures are made from the planes, which fly at heights of from 7,000 to 10,000 feet. At 7,000 feet a plate 4x5 inches will include a birds-eye view of about 1-8 of a square mile, while the additional 3,000 foot altitude will increase the range of the lens about 33 1-3 per cent.

As soon as the exposure have been made the boat descends and the plates are developed and printed on the spot. In fact the field equipment is sufficiently complete to do all work without help from headquarters.

Second Lieuts. W. G. Pratt and P. R. Meyer will act as pilots on the trip and Sgt. B. Melkowsky will have charge of the photography. He will be assisted by Camera Repairman Grant; Mappers Haide, Lindhult and Haquinus. Privates Duernberger, Copeland, Ryan, Matson, Leighton, Nase, Hannes, Kastner, Gluck and Jundsgren will also make the trip, while McCoy will be both chauffeur and cook for the outfit.

Women Quit in Favor of Returned Soldiers

Some of the predictions as to "what will happen when the boys come home" already have proven to be wrong.

There has of late been a great acceleration in the replacing of women and girls on busses in London, the vacancies being filled by discharged soldiers, who have returned to their old jobs.

Many people prophesied that the women would "make a fight for it" when asked to give up their work, but in this instance, the bus companies report the women have in every case recognized that it was simply in accordance with the understanding when they were taken on at the beginning of the war, and gladly have given up their jobs to the returned men.

Brooks Field Flyer Loses Life in Fall

Second Lieut. L. W. Bird, a student aviator at Brooks Field, was instantly killed at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon when his machine went into a nose spin at Yturria Field, three miles from Brooks Field, and an adjunct to that field. Another officer in the machine with Lieutenant Bird, escaped unhurt.

Lieutenant Bird was a son of H. W. Bird, 221 South Vine street, North Platte, Neb. He reported for duty at Brooks Field November 18. The body probably will be sent to North Platte for burial.

Battle Saved By Airman's Daring

Becoming Lost Behind German Lines, British Pilot Sees Troops Massing, Flies Through Attack and Gives Alarm

A British pilot, flying in France from one airdrome to another, was the last machine of a flight of five which struck across country and soon afterward ran into clouds. He lost sight of the other machines.

He looked around and saw several black specks. Thinking they were his companions he turned round and flew toward them. When he drew near they dived, firing their machine guns. He fled.

His compass showed that he was flying east—away from his own lines. He flew on for 20 minutes, hotly pursued, and at last outdistanced the Germans. Not knowing he was well over German occupied territory, he turned once more and flew due west for half an hour.

Flies Behind German Lines.

He then throttled down and drifted slowly down through the sunlit cloud barrier. He saw a group of hangars some 10 or 15 miles away and began to land. To his amazement he saw that all the machines were marked with the black cross. The Germans began firing while the excited mechanics began to swing the propellers in order to start up the airplanes.

The airman realized that a considerable wind had been blowing from the west and had carried him far behind the lines and he had not allowed himself enough time before he dived through the clouds.

Meanwhile he flew on, pursued hotly for the second time, and drew near the lines. Ahead of him he could see a cloudy turmoil of smoke and bursting shells and flying earth. A big attack was evidently in progress. The air was full of the white puffs of the shrapnel breaking low over the troops. Straight toward this maelstrom he flew and soon machine guns on the ground began to fire flaming bullets at him. So low was he that the barrage blazed all around him.

Finds Important Information.

Below he could see gray masses of Germans collecting for a counter-attack. He realized this might be important information, and so landed as soon as possible, crashing in a shell-hole.

He crawled out of the wreckage, ran stumbling across the shell-torn earth, found a French headquarters near by, where he reported what he had seen.

This information proved of notable importance. Action was taken at once and the tide of that battle was turned to France's favor.

Y. M. C. A. Makes Report for November

The report of the educational secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for November, shows that the association continues a favorite with the men in the field, and that despite the signing of the armistice it is going rapidly ahead with its program of entertainment.

Ten classes were organized during the month and 304 meetings were held. The attendance at these totalled 7,718 men. In addition to this, numerous instructive lectures were given which included two on health, three on social and economic questions and five on the great world war. The number of soldiers used as teachers reached 38, and 14 secretaries assisted with the classes.

There are at present 4,071 books in the libraries in the different huts on the field, and these were loaned more than an average of once each during the month. The "Y" distributed 21,611 pieces of reading matter during the month.

It is the aim of the Y. M. C. A. to continue with its work in the field, and to help the men as long as there is one left.

New York.—Daniel G. Reid, prominent banker, presented the city a public clock to be placed out at the shore end at North River, which is the city's most southern pier. The clock is to be a memorial of the U. S. sailors and soldiers who died in the great war. It is announced that this is the only public clock in the world which strikes ship time.

Treatise On Wild Women

(Ordinarily the magazine stories published in The Eagle are written by members of the field, but the following from the Call Field Stabilizer, written by D. A. B. during the quarantine period, seemed to call for reproduction for the benefit of Kelly Fielders, and it is printed with the idea of handing someone a laugh.)

YOU KNOW, I don't want to seem ungrateful or anything like that, but now after we have been under quarantine for weeks and I haven't seen anything but khaki uniforms and funny little mustaches for hellknowshowlong, along comes the editor and tells me that he has decided to let me write a story about Wild Women.

Suppose you were an Arctic explorer like Peary and Doc Cook and those old blubber eaters, and you had been stranded for a couple of years on a chunk of ice up near the pole. Then at last you saw a rescue ship coming. When the ship drew up alongside your bungalow a la mode, the first person to step off the ship was a breezy young fellow with a note book who rushed up to you and asked you to give your opinion on the shredded wheat peril in Hawaii. You know what would happen to that guy. He would probably make a square meal for some man-eating seal.

In the good old days when we used to jazz down town and stand in front of the drug store (for name see advertising section) almost every night, I might have been able to write with authority on such a subject, but now my sketch can be but hazy and vastly inaccurate. But even venturing on the subject of Wild Women I run the grave chance of making myself the laughing stock of those whose vital business interests has taken them into town since the quarantine began and who therefore have later done on the subject. But however, and notwithstanding—here goes—

Wild Women Have Methods.

IT IS useless to try to classify Wild Women. Their types are as numerous as the sands of the seven seas. Every little wild woman has a method of her own. But I can call your attention to a few outstanding examples and lay down some hard and fast rules.

Rule 1. The tamer they look the wilder they are. When you see one with wildness written all over her face call in the outposts and breathe easy. You are in no danger. But when you meet up with a little gazelle with big come-here-go-away eyes and a oh-how-strong-you-are manner, watch your step, boy, watch your step. For a time she may make you feel like a conqueror, but in the end she biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.

Rule 2. The bite is seldom fatal. The world is full of those who have been stung and have lived to have been stung again. It's like being seasick. One day you think you are going to die and are afraid you won't and the next day you are on the job for three squares.

Rule 3. In spite of the greatest precaution you find that you have been bitten, don't try to effect a cure by depriving yourself of the lady's company. Do just the opposite. Call on her every day, bask by her fireside, take her to the movies, buy her a pound of sugar, be thoughtful, kind and a perfect gentleman, and in a darned short time you will be as popular at her home as a six-year-old at a wedding. Then you won't need to deny yourself. She'll do it for you. Of course a rapid cure may be accomplished by marrying the girl, but this method is not recommended on account of its violence.

Some Dangerous Types.

It is best to be on guard at all times. For this reason the following list of some dangerous types is given:

No. 1. The girl who tells you that you are the only one who ever understood her.

No. 2. The one who tells you an hour after meeting her that she feels that she has known you always.

No. 3. The little faker who gushes that you are so different.

No. 4. The one who admits that she is half afraid of you.

No. 5. The deceiver who shudders that you must be terrible when you are angry.

But gosh, what's the use. They invent new methods faster than I can write. As they say in Japan, "Bofump gehic wamus guk." For reference I would recommend some splendid text books on this subject written by Robert W. Chambers and Elinor Glyn. That's where I got all my dope.

Champion Racer "Betsy" Is Now At Kelly Field

Machine Owned by Lieut. L. S. Crane Is One of Oldest Racing Automobiles in Country

BETSY has served most faithfully, and deserves a few words of well earned commendation.

In the years 1912, '13 and '14 Betsy laboriously but with much credit to herself climbed over the hills of Georgia. For this and many other similar performances she holds trophies of value.

Betsy is one of the oldest racing automobiles in the country and is the property of Lieut. L. S. Crane, an automobile racing pilot who is a familiar figure in Southern racing circles and now in the motor shops, Flying Department. The old car is still serviceable and will return to the track, where she has won so many honors and has served so faithfully.

For three consecutive years Lieutenant Crane won the annual hill-climb, sanctioned by the American Automobile Association, and each year bettered the time made on the previous occasion. By this performance he became the owner of the silver loving cup offered in that event, and likewise holds the numerous other trophies which Betsy has won.

Known on All Speedways.

The old car has participated in more than 25 regularly organized

A. A. U. Cross-Country Run Here on New Year's Day

Candidates for Kelly Field Team Should Report At Once—Cup and Medals Awarded Winners by Amateur Athletic Union

KELLY FIELD athletes of cross-country experience are interested in the big A. A. U. Cross Country Run to be held here New Year's Day. All the surrounding army camps will enter teams in the run and compete for a $50 prize cup donated by the Amateur Athletic Union. The run will determine the cross country championship of the Southern Department.

Eight men will constitute a team and the first five to finish of each team will constitute a team score. The run will be six miles in length with the start and finish at Camp Travis, starting at 11 a. m.

Individual trophies will be awarded as follows: Gold medals to first three to finish; silver medals to next seven to finish; bronze medals to next fifteen to finish.

Track athletes of Kelly Field who feel they have the ability to represent this Field in the run should communicate with Lieut. O. L. Clough, physical director of Kelly Field, or Lieut. Nathan Malefski, athletic officer.

Lieut. Higgins, the famous Holy Cross runner who has defeated Ted Meredith on several occasions and now is stationed at Kelly Field, will assist Kelly Field entrants in their training prior to the run. Clinton Larson, Brigham Young University track athlete and holder of the world's record in the high jump, and Lieut. O. L. Clough, former coach and trainer at Washington State College, also will assist in training the Kelly Field team.

Candidates for the Kelly Field team should report at once.

Baseball to Be Universal

British Officer Thinks War Will Make Game International

Lieut. J. K. Snowden, a British army officer assigned to Camp Grant as a bayonet instructor and who soon will leave for home, believes baseball will become an international sport as a result of the war. A world's series between Chicago and London or New York and Paris, he considers more than a possibility.

"This war has brought the English-speaking people of the world together," said Lieutenant Snowden, "and they never will be separated. One of the revelations to me is the devotion of Americans to their National sport. It occupies such a great place in your lives that it is the most common subject for conversation—particularly among your young men.

"England is taking to baseball like a duck to water. The small boys are playing it on the lots and it won't be long before it supplants cricket and other sports there. We look upon baseball differently than we did five years ago.

"We have seen the game played often by your soldiers, and we have become enthused over it ourselves. At the time of the world tour by the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants our people didn't know much about baseball. I saw the game in London and must confess we applauded loudest when a fielder caught a long fly. A home run wasn't cause for much interest by us. We didn't understand the

52nd Artillery Cops Victory

Travis Team Wins Brigade Honors With 54th Gunners

At League Park Saturday afternoon one of the most spectacular football games of the season was staged between the two claimants of the championship of the 18th Field Artillery Brigade of Camp Travis, the 52d and the 54th Field Artilleries.

It ended in a blaze of glory for the 52d, as they won 19 to 0. This is marked evidence of the efficiency of the coaches, for in spite of the loss of several of its stars by injury and sickness, particularly Lieutenants Sterner and Cook, the team played good football. Three touchdowns and one goal made up the score.

The game started with the 54th kicking off. Immediately by straight football the 52d carried the ball to the one-yard line, where a costly fumble gave the ball to the 54th. The 54th in turn fumbled on their fifteen-yard line and Nipp, playing left end, scooped up the ball and carried it over for the first touchdown. This play reminded football fans of the well-known play by Sam White of Princeton in a Yale game a few years ago.

Until the third quarter it was nip and tuck with the ball in the center of the field most of the time. In the last quarter the 52d woke up again. Brodt, left half, intercepted a beautiful forward pass and by clean dodging ran thirty yards. In two more plays Cogbill carried the ball over the line. This goal was missed. Then the 52d kicked off, but soon regained the ball and Cogbill in a pretty broken field dash for forty yards made another touchdown. This ended the scoring.

Captain Brooks, coach of the 52d Field Artillery team and former Williams College star, said after the game:

"The men played good, clean football and played together, which counted as the result showed. I heartily congratulate them. I expect great things of them."

Lieutenant Hiatt of Camp John Wise was referee. Lieutenant Van Nostrand, former Yale quarterback, of the 53d Field Artillery, was umpire. Head linesman, Lieutenant Short of the 19th Field Artillery; field judge, Mr. Venne of the Y. M. C. A.

Nipp, Henry, Burns, Cogbill, Brodt, Fair, LeBeau and Tholl all starred.

Fulton or Morris To Battle Dempsey

Promoters Show Big Interest in Proposed Bout of Heavies

It is believed that Fred Fulton or Carl Morris will be Jack Dempsey's next opponent. It is uncertain where such a match would be staged, but chances appear to favor New Orleans. Dominick Tortorich has been bidding violently for a Dempsey-Morris match for several weeks, and as the race meeting is soon to begin in New Orleans, the bout doubtless will take place during the time the horses are running.

It also is likely that a Dempsey-Morris or Dempsey-Fulton match may be decided in Philadelphia, where Dempsey has become a tremendous favorite. He has fought at least three bouts in the Quaker town in the last few weeks, and won them all by knockouts. His quick knockout of Battling Levinsky was the most impressive of all, and he followed that achievement with a one-round knockout of Porky Flynn.

Carl Morris has been training diligently for several weeks in an effort to prepare himself for a match with Dempsey. Morris is sanguine he can defeat the Utah boy, although there are many who believe Dempsey will knock out the limbering heavy-weight as quickly as he did Fulton in their bout at Harrison, N. J., last summer.

M'Namara and Magin Winners 6-Day Race

New York.—Reggie McNamara and Jake Magin, the Newark, N. J. team, won the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden Saturday night. Madden and Corry finished second. Grenda and Hill took third place. The score by points follows: McNamara and Magin, 1,297; Madden and Corry, 912; Grenda and Hill, 531; Lawsky, 331; Chapman and Halstead, 245; Grimm and Thomas, 126.

Camp Pike Defeats Camp Dodge Eleven

Little Rock, Ark.—Approximately 10,000 persons saw Camp Pike's officer team beat Camp Dodge, 17 to 7, Saturday in one of the prettiest games of football seen here in some time. The victory gave Camp Pike a tighter hold on their claim to the Western championship. Lieutenant Littlefield, the great Texas half-back, was the individual star of the game, repeatedly grabbing off big gains for Pike with his well-directed forward passes. Lieutenant Bourleske, left end, and Lieutenants Fort and Holladay, backs, also played stellar ball.

Superior Team Work Gives Funston Win

Camp Funston, Kan.—Playing a heady game and exhibiting superior team work, the Camp Funston divisional eleven Saturday defeated the Camp Grant football team by a score of 21 to 6. Two of Funston's touchdowns were the result of blocked kicks. The third touchdown was resulted from a series of line bucks which carried Zachritz across the Grant goal line. Shaw and Felflinger blocked two Grant kicks and made possible the other two touchdowns. Three goals were kicked by Gardner.

Grant was able to penetrate the Funston defense successfully but once when they shoved the oval across

Wants Experts For Wheel and Body Shop

Park Place Officer Intends Opening Business in San Antonio; Scours Camps for Workmen

WANTED: — Expert wheelwrights and wood-workmen, automobile body painters, sign and combination painters, and upholstering and trimming men.

This is not an attempt to give free advertising but is printed to show the men of Kelly Field that the men in uniform are not the only persons interested in the future after they return to civil life and begin to look for employment.

The above "want ad" comes from Lieut. Edward J. Fraser, personnel adjutant of the 190 th Aero Squadron, Park Place, Houston, Texas. Lieutenant Fraser intends to open a wheel and body manufacturing plant in San Antonio in the near future, and prefers to offer the positions in his new firm to men in uniform first.

Kelly Field men interested in this proposition can get in touch with Lieutenant Fraser direct by addressing him at Park Place, Houston, Texas.

Philippines where he served in the Moro Campaign, under the now Major Gen. F. P. Baldwin. During this campaign, Major White, then a private, fought in the Battle of Bayan on May 2, 1902, in which the American forces inflicted very heavy losses on the natives engaged in the fight.

Shortly before the expiration of his first enlistment period he was returned to the States and was discharged as corporal at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. In 1905 re-enlisted at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, in the 9th Infantry. He then came to Fort Sam Houston and studied three years on a commission.

Shortly before the beginning of the present emergency, he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. In August, 1917, he returned to America on leave at his own expense in order to make an attempt to get across to France.

Before leaving here, Major White stated that he expected to receive instructions to return to the Philippines, when his sick leave ends. He is very anxious to return there, as the Philippine service appeals to him very much.

Major and Mrs. White left San Antonio Tuesday morning for Kansas City. From there they will proceed to Colorado Springs. After a few days' visit they will continue to Los Angeles, where Major White will spend his leave at his father's home.

"Where You Are Always"

Spirit of Carnival Prevades Squadron Home-Folks Party

It was strictly a "home-folks" affair which Squadron K of the Flying School Detachment gave at the Gunter last Thursday night. No professional caterers or decorators could claim a bit of the credit for the success of the evening's entertainment. The stunt was purely a product of the ingenuity and efforts of the men of the squadron under the able leadership of Lieut. M. B. Silberberg, adjutant of the Squadron.

The dance in the ballroom of the Gunter started with a jazzy swing under the inspiration of the Kelly Field Orchestra's most syncopated rag, and the first number was sufficient to cause the participants to abandon the bit of formality which they may have brought with them and enter into the spirit of the evening.

Soon after the dancing had begun a mock grand march to the strains of an oriental glide started and as the guests passed the orchestra stand, they received carnival hats and an ample supply of colored paper tape. After that dull care vanished and a true carnival spirit reigned.

During the intermission, light refreshments prepared by the members of the squadron at the field were served in the dining room.

The committee in charge of the evening's gaiety consisted of Sgts. A. W. Veazey, J. W. Green, L. L. Lytle, A. J. Mutchler and H. A. Russell, Corps. G. N. Crandall and J. J. Savage, and Privts. G. A. Kirkpatrick, and C. F. Noetzel. Lieut. H. B. Landes is the commanding officer and Lieut. T. H. McCoy, Jr. is the supply officer of Squadron K.

Kelly Men to Sing In "Messiah" at Empire After Xmas

Glee Club to Join San Antonio Musical Clubs in Presenting Handel's Oratorio

Kelly Field will provide the only section of male singers in the coming presentation of Handel's "Messiah" at the Empire theater, December 27. The oratorio will be given by San Antonio musical clubs for the War Camp Community Service Board under the direction of army camp song leaders, David Griffin and Sergt. Herbert Wall.

All of the San Antonio musical clubs will participate in the performance, Tuesday Music Club, Mozart Society, Brackenridge and Main Avenue High School Glee Clubs and the Kelly Field men. The accompanists will be Robert E. Mitchell, former organist in St. Willibald's cathedral in Munich, at the organ, and Walter Dunham, former assistant post song leader, recently returned from the infantry officers' training camp at Waco, at the piano.

In addition to rehearsals for the "Messiah" the glee club is contemplating a tour of Austin, Waco and Dallas beginning next Sunday. The trip will be made under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service Board for the benefit of the Red Cross membership drive.

Travis Calls on Kelly Field for Players' Shows

With the demobilization of the Camp Travis Amusement Unit, the Kelly Field Players are in more demand than ever before, as they are required to fill not only their own dates in Camp Travis, but those of that camp's unit as well.

Last Friday night a group of the Players gave shows at "Y" No. 29 in Travis and the Post Chapel in Fort Sam Houston, all acts doubling.

Alex Hamel opened the show with his single comedy acrobatic act, followed by Blough and Fields in "Look at the Ears on 'Im" and Howard Nelson, cartoonist, closed with O'Connor and Keyes in "The Long and Short of It."

In the SPOTLIGHT

"Bob" Carrick, Scotch comedian, is again a member of the Famous Kelly Field Players, and is working under the direction of the Amusement Unit. Carrick's quaint dialect and humorous comment on the passing show have made his act a big hit everywhere. Bob has been particularly in demand at rallies of the Red Cross society.

The barracks of the 145th Squadron at times presents the appearance of a back stage in a big producing theater. This is particularly true of Sunday mornings when O'Connor, Reichenbach, Blough and St. Pierre join in a dancing number, Frankie Le Maire indulged in a series of "morning exercise" spins, in one section, while Tex Ellis conducts a bally-hoo show in another.

Robert E. Mitchell has been accompanying Alex Hamel's acrobatic act so often that he has acquired the knack of comedy falls, and is contemplating including stunts of this order in his "single" act. At the performance at Post Chapel last week, Bob made an immediate hit when he entered and made a complicated fall from the piano bench. Ralph Murden, formerly with the Amusement Unit as "The Marimba King" was a visitor at the 145th Squadron the other day. Murden was an officer candidate at the Waco Infantry Camp and received his discharge a few weeks ago.

"The Long and Short of It"; One of Players "Riot" Acts

Charlie O'Connor and Sid Reichenbach

From the moment of their entrance, Charlie O'Connor and Sid Reichenbach, now known to the famous Kelly Field Players' circuit as O'Connor and Keyes, register a sure hit.

Their act "The Long and Short of It" gives each of the boys a splendid opportunity to display his versatility in comedy, singing and dancing, and they work it up to a climax which is always followed by immediate and continued applause.

O'Connor possesses a pair of graceful, nervous feet and an "a la McCormick" Irish tenor, combined with a breezy personality, which forms an ideal foil for the eccentric comedy of Keyes, whose loose jointed individuality in dancing marks him as a coming comedian. Sid's impersonation of the "Hick" maiden in the "Yellow Ribbon" number is a riot as soon as he makes his appearance, and his silly-kid laugh has made him famous in this part of the country.

Were Vaudevillians In Civil Life.

Before entering the service, Charlie was in vaudeville and musical. At one time he was tenor soloist with the Paulist Choristers, of Chicago a world famous choral organization. He danced with Joe Stanley and Adele Rowland in the original "Modern Eve," and worked two seasons with Valeska Suratt and Zoe Barnett in the "Red Rose," but returned to vaudeville because of the independence of the performer in the two-a-day.

Sid was a student and an amateur theatrical celebrity up to the time he enlisted with Uncle Sam. His work in school and local theatricals attracted considerable attention, and he received many flattering offers to enter the profession, but up to the time of joining the amusement

Unit, had not seriously considered it. Following a tryout, O'Connor quickly engaged him as a partner and their act is the result of the splendid combination of their abilities—plus months of hard work.

May Now Purchase Clothing From Q. M.

Uniforms and Other Clothing To Be Sold at Reduction To Clean Out Stock

Enlisted men now in the service or who will be discharged, as well as civilian employees of the government can purchase certain articles of clothing and other apparel from the sub-depot quartermasters, according to advices from the director of purchase, storage and traffic, Washington, D. C. Such articles which includes everything but uniforms will be sold at a reduction of 10 per cent below the average purchase price, practically at a wholesale rate. Reclaimed and salvaged clothing will be sold at a reduction of 25 per cent.

This action was taken to avoid shipping stocks of apparel from the camps and fields to bases of supplies in different sections of the country. It is expected that the soldiers will take advantage of this and that thousands of dollars worth of material will be sold.

Retire Former West Point Head.

Special to The Eagle by Radio. Washington, D. C.—Major Gen. Clarence P. Townsley, former superintendent of West Point Military Academy has been placed on the retired list with regular rank of brigadier general.

May Wear Army Service Stripes.

Philadelphia.—Soldiers who have been members of the Police Department may wear their gold army service stripes on their police uniform when demobilized, according to a ruling by William Mills, acting chief of police.

R. Trueblood and Pvts. Louis A. Way and Ruhard H. Osborn to chauffeurs, Pvt. first class Leo F. Rendessy and Pvt. Lawrence E. Barrett to corporals.

327th—Corp. Robert A. Fabel to sergeant.

668th—Pvts. Thos. J. Ownes and John H. O'Neil to corporals, Pvts. Forest E. Flowers and Edwin V. Moran to chauffeurs and Pvts. Robt. H. McCullough, Michael J. Piggott, Garrett A. Piggott, Howard L. Risk and Andrew J. Shroyer to privates first class.

144th—Corp. Frank Boerger to sergeant first class.

328th—Corp. George E. Suehr to sergeant, Pvts. James W. Lipscomb, Walter W. Carson, Abraham Duckhalter, John F. Reimus, William L. Tiner, Roy C. Hendricks, Julius Gaedke, Benjamin F. Smith, Thomas S. Graham, Raymond J. Fitzgerald and Francis P. Thomas to chauffeurs, and Pvts. LeRoy R. Redd, Raymond H. LeVaugh and Paul F. Elbert to corporals.

Discharged Soldiers May Receive Month's Pay and Equipment

A bill to grant every discharged soldier from the service a month's pay and his complete military equipment will be introduced in the senate sometime this week and according to reports will be rushed through Congress as soon as possible.

The above decision was reached Saturday in a conference between Senator Hoke Smith and other members of the Senate Military Affairs Committee with Chief of Staff Peyton C. March. There has been agitation for sometime throughout the country for legislation of this nature but no definite action was taken till last Saturday. It has also been proposed before, that every soldier be given a month's pay and the uniform he wears home, but it is probable that the agreement reached Saturday will be adopted in preference to other propositions.

Drops Literature From Plane.

(Special to The Eagle by Radio) Chicago, Ill.—Federal Judge K. M. Landis dropped war savings tracts upon Chicago from an airplane driven by Lieut. W. H. Breiting in charge of flying at Rantoul Field. Judge Landis has a son in aviation service.

To Preserve Log Jail.

Special to The Eagle by Radio. Nashville, Ind.—The county commissioners here have decided to preserve the historic log jail built in 1837. It is believed to be the only one in the United States.

De Haviland-Liberty Makes Nonstop Record

A new non-stop record for long distance aeroplane flight in America was established Saturday when C. F. Kettering and Howard M. Rinehart made a flight of 500 miles from Dayton, Ohio, to New York, covering the distance in four hours and 10 minutes. The trip was made in a standard De Haviland four army plane, equipped with a twelve cylinder, 400 horse-power Liberty motor. They flew to Washington in two hours.

Move Accuracy Stage.

Accuracy Stage flying has been discontinued at Stinson Field and moved to Kelly Field. The time schedule has also undergone a change. In the future all students on this stage will work out from 12:30 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, instead of in the morning from 7:30 until 12:30 as heretofore.

Squadron Members Hold Stag Banquet And Pretty Dansant

A "stag" banquet, at which the leading officers of the Flying Department and city officials were guests of honor, was given by the officers and men of Squadron H, Flying School Detachment, in the ball room of the St. Anthony last Friday night at 6:30 p. m. Following the banquet a democratic "dansant squadrinaire," attended and chaperoned by wives of officers, held sway in the ball room and adjoining tapestry room until one o'clock.

The guests dined festively on propellers, rudders, tail spins, landing gears and other parts of the Curtiss JN, H airplane, for that was the name given the menu and each of the dishes of the ten courses banquet was given a camouflage name chosen from airplane terminology appropriate to the dish. The relish was the entering edge, the roast turkey formed the fuselage and the cigarettes ended the meal as flying drift wires.

The tables were arranged in the form of a huge "H" which took up the entire floor space of the ball room. The table decorations consisted of an illuminated table fountain in the center of the bar of the "H". Red carnations and fern leaves.

The ballroom was decorated in a novel manner, the central feature being a huge propeller at the far end of the dining room, over which fluttered the United States flag. Garlands of evergreen draped from the center chandeliers to huge panel designs of the Capital H, also made of evergreen. Fall foliage adorned the moulding of the room. Miniature airplanes, suspended from the garlands, added a distinctively aviation touch to the decorations.

Flying Department Band Plays.

The First Air Service Band, under the leadership of Sgt. A. Frankel, furnished music throughout the meal, and later played the 20-dance numbers. The Camp Travis quartet sang rag harmonies between courses.

At the close of the dinner, W. N. Wysham, building secretary of Y. No. 72, acting as toast master, arose and introduced these speakers: Lieut. H. David Kroll, commanding officer of Squadron H; Capt. Carl Puckett, M. C., sanitary inspector of the Flying Department; Capt. S. E. Mitchell, physical inspector; Capt. F. Van P. Ellsworth, and Lieut. Col. H. B. Clagett, acting commanding officer of Kelly Field. In a very brief talk, Colonel Clagett, who was the last speaker, paid a glowing tribute to the work of the enlisted men who, through conscientious effort, made the glory and reputation of Kelly Field nation-wide. The banquet ended at nine o'clock.

Officers as Honor Guests.

The guests of honor were Lieut. Col. H. B. Clagett, Major L. B. Jacobs, Capt. Jack Doublin, Capt. F. van P. Ellsworth, Capt. S. E. Mitchell, Capt. W. R. Becker, Lieut. T. R. McCracken, Lieut. W. C. King, Lieut. Carl E. Newman, Lieut. Frank M. McHale, and Lieut. W. S. Blakely, Jr. A number of other officers were present.

Chaperons were Mrs. W. E. Gilmore, Mrs. F. E. Bell, Mrs. S. E. Mitchell, Mrs. L. B. Jacobs and Mrs. W. R. Becker.

An attractive menu and souvenir program of the evening with cover design by Sgt. R. H. Colmyer of Squadron "B," in colors was presented each of the guests. Besides the menu, dance program and names of honorary guests, it contained a roster of the squadron and a picture of the squadron's quarters.

The committee in charge of the banquet and dance was composed of Lieutenant Kroll and of the following enlisted men: Sgt. David H. Shadrach, Whitney A. Rudy, William A. Drummond, William Wolfson, and Seth D. Seeley, Corp. Charles O. Steele, Chauffeur George E. Tripp, and Pvts. Henry G. Moore, Leslie T. Snyder and Howard O. Williams.

Increase Personnel of Supply Outfits

Seventy enlisted men of the Second Wing, Concentration Brigade, have been transferred to the Aviation General Supply Depot. They will be placed in the 662nd and 675th Squadrons at Kelly Field.

It is understood that men in these two squadrons will probably remain in service for some months, as the work of securing, transferring, handling and storing of all aviation supplies in this part of the country will fall to the lot of the men in these two squadrons.

Health Expert Anthony Completes Work.

John B. Anthony, representing the Texas Public Health Association has completed a health campaign in Kelly Field and is now at Camp Travis in similar work.

While here, he spoke to the men at the mess halls and delivered lectures at the "Y" buildings, special attention being given to the sections centered about buildings No. 72, 151, 157, 204 and 238 at Camp Normoyle.

During the two weeks of the campaign he distributed 8,000 folders dealing with health topics.

Hold Thanks Banquet 2,800 Feet in Air

The first aerial banquet of which there is any record was served to nine persons Thanksgiving Day on an airplane 2,800 feet above the flying field of the United States air mail service at Elizabeth, New Jersey. The field is the terminus of the aerial mail route between New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

The dinner was served in a big Handley-Paige machine under the control of Capt. E. B. Waller of the Royal Flying Forces during a flight which lasted 22 minutes. Among the guests were Capt. Benjamin B. Lipsener, superintendent of the air mail service, Allan R. Hawley, Augustus Post and other high officials of the Aero Club of America.

Speaking of the proposed nationwide extension of the mail service, Captain Lipsener said: "We will have machines which will carry a ton and half of mail and days of freight and parcel post by airplane are coming."

FOREIGN BUSINESS OFFICES.

Richard W. Cooke, Inc., Eastern office 154 Nassau Street, New York City; Western office, A. R. Keator, 1411 Hartford Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Entered as second-class matter June 11, 1918, at the post office at San Antonio, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

The Kelly Field Eagle is the outcome of a firm conviction on the part of those who are responsible for it, that the soldiers to whom it goes should be kept informed of the news events which are vital to their welfare.

Its chief purposes are widespread and various. The Eagle wishes to reflect soldier opinion as much as possible and at the same time bolster the spirit and morale of the air service. It is upon this branch of the service that the eyes of America are turned, and the Eagle will do its part to see that America is not disappointed.

It will disseminate all the important and essential news and at the same time act as a check upon "wild" rumors which are conceived in ignorance and spread nothing but hysteria.

Get the Kaiser

INDICTING THE Kaiser, alias Black Bill, the Potsdam Perjuror, has become one of the world's greatest and most popular indoor sports. Theft, Arson, Murder, Rapine and countless other atrocious acts are among the things chalked up on the slate against the Hohenzollern and his son of the softened brain, but the same truth remains that at the present moment the said culprit is stalking around Holland while his son Willie does the Dutch cleanser act through the medium of an unmuzzled press.

To indict the "Roughneck of the Rhine," is one thing, to get him is another and it would appear without undue mental exertion that the proper thing to concentrate upon at this stage of the game is to quit the indicting and get busy on the "getting."

If Count Hohenzollern can be extradited into an allied country and then be brought before a world tribunal of justice, it is high time that we begin to make the extradition papers out.

With persons like Maximillian Harden coming out with the statement that the former occupant of the Royal Palace was forced into the war, it is about time for action on extradition lest Maudlin sentiment make of the ex-Kaiser a nobler Harry Thaw with a consequent prostitution of Justice.

Herr Harden, we will remember is a socialist Editor who has won more or less favor in this country by his Anti-Imperialistic prognostications. With this favor it is readily to be seen that some of us might be inclined to give ear to the mouthings of "Die Zukunft's" Editor.

There is no time like the present to get Mr. William Hohenzollern and his Son, and the longer we delay, the longer and the harder will any concerted effort for international justice become.

Hope Springs Eternal!

Your Boy: By Henry Van Dyke

YOUR BOY HAS fallen on the field of honor, a brave defender of righteousness, humanity and freedom. May a stranger, who is also a friend, venture into the sacred quiet of your sorrow to say a word of sympathy and comfort?

He was your baby, your own, flesh of your flesh, bone of your bone—a long time you carried him under your heart. But all the while you wanted him to be a man, true and fearless. He was. He heard his country's call. He counted not his own life dear, but offered it gladly to defend the world from the menace of Prussian paganism.

Weep for him, yes, but do not forget to be proud of him, and to rejoice in him. No possible ending of his earthly life could have been more glorious, more rewarding for all that you have done for him, than this. He went forth, an American boy—your boy—to fight for the liberty and the peace of the world. You made him and you sent him. It is your right and duty to be proud of him.

Do not be anxious about his lot in the unseen world. Leave that to the Righteous God who is the Father of us all, and to Christ who said: "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it." Self-sacrifice is the key to heaven.

You will never forget your boy. Do not think of him as dead, but as living—living! Be sure that he will look down from fields of eternal peace upon that victory over the German war lords which is surely coming, and which he helped to win. Be sure that you will see him again in a better world—

*"Where loyal hearts and true
Stand ever in the light,
All rapture through and through,
In God's most holy sight."*

Sgt. First Class George H. Righter

DEATH has robbed Kelly Field of one of her most influential citizens. The loss is one that cannot be measured for even his closest friends would not attempt to tell of the many things which went to make the character of Sergeant First Class George Harold Righter beloved.

An almost tireless worker with a full heart for things beneficial to Kelly Field, Sgt. Righter became Business Manager of the Kelly Field Eagle at a time when that paper was facing a very uncertain future.

It was his energy and faith and experience that restored the camp paper to its now prosperous condition.

Sergeant Righter was an able leader and a keen executive and he entered the service with an enviable record of achievement behind him. He was one of the Pioneers on Kelly Field and just before his death had been recommended for a Commission. The signing of the Armistice robbed him of this proper reward for his service.

Always ready with a cheerful hand for his fellows, on many occasions going out of his way to render a service, this man is survived by the memory of a host of friends whose deepest sorrow is but a fitting monument to a fine character and a noble gentleman.

SNAPSHOTS BY SNAPSHOT BILL

FROM: Snapshot Bill.

TO: Vaudevillans.

SUBJECT: Ravages of Moths.

Gentlemen: The time has come, we believe, when we may make a few pertinent remarks without fear of any effective contradiction. The chiefest of which is that the vaudeville performances in San Antonio Theatres are decidedly not worth the price of admission. We make this rather large statement of fact because of our personal observations and because of soldier opinion.

It has seemed that soldier opinion has not amounted to much in San Antonio because certain of the genus San Antonians have refused to admit that a soldier had any opinion.

The whole and sole reason that it is necessary for San Antonio to have a Square Deal Association is because soldier opinion here has been utterly disregarded.

It is nearly impossible to go into the broad aspects of this problem and so that is the reason we find it necessary to pick out the Amusement Enterprises for our attacks.

There is no particular kick against the quality of the acts shown at the Majestic, for they represent the Keith Circuit, known most favorably everywhere. But there is a kick on Majestic prices. Why is it that matinee seats are advertised at 25 cents and a tour to the box office results in the discovery that the 25-cent seats are anywhere the management wishes to put them? Why is it these same acts can be seen in New York vaudeville houses for 55 cents and 85 cents at the Majestic? The Palace Theatre in New York has a right to charge higher for it presents nothing but all star acts. The Majestic, however, presents nothing but the ordinary bill.

As for the Royal and Princess vaudeville programs, they are the acme of low humor and bad acting. And yet we are forced to pay gilt edged prices to witness all this.

We soldiers, we admit, must have amusement, and we are ready to pay reasonably for it, but when we are gouged, the chief result is that when we leave San Antonio we will do so with a slur on our lips.

You theatre managers have the good name of San Antonio in your hands. Be reasonable for the love of Mike.

Snappily Yours,

SNAPSHOT BILL.
